

SUPPLY LIST BEGINNERS OIL

NEW ITEM BELOW

You can get your supplies in a number of places; Plaza Art Store in Kenwood, Hobby Lobby, Michaels or online at places such as dickblick.com.

Considered buying "student/academic" grade to keep cost lower.

Investment should be made in your brushes, the ones suggested are better than student grade.

You can also make use of items you have in your home such as jars for brushes or old plates/platters for palettes.

OIL PAINTS & COLORS

Beginning Oil Sets are a great way to start if you are purchasing for the first time, they usually have the colors you will need or something like...please note the size of the tubes when looking at prices, you do NOT (x) want any tubes smaller than 1.25 oz.

All colors can be "Hues", these are perfectly acceptable.

If purchasing separately, please have the following:

BRUSHES

Purchase brushes for Oil paint, below are suggested bristles & shape/sizes. You only need 4 brushes.

Hog Bristles, (any brand) shape Filbert, size 8, 6, 4, shape Round, size 1

Synthetic Bristles

Silver Ruby Satin, shape Filbert, size 8,6,4, shape Round, size 1

Monarch, Winsor & Newton, shape Filbert, size 14, 12, 8, shape round, size 2.

A palette/paint knife-- shape shown is best for general usage.

PALETTE

If you prefer stand hand held wood are the best.

Masterson Boxes can be sealed

Pans/old dishes

Paper Disposable Palettes.

You do NOT (x) want plastic palettes with individual spaces.

You will take your palette home with you each week so you will need a plastic wrap if you do not have a covered/sealed palette. To use paint for the next week keep them in your freezer.

SOLVENTS & BRUSH JAR

We do ask that all of your solvents be "odorless", so they need to be from an art store. No odorless turpentine from hardware stores please.

LINSEED OIL

1 small jar. This is not the same as "boiled" linseed from hardware stores.

NEW ITEM

Pack of very inexpensive canvas boards, 8x10, quantity of 4 to 5.

1 or 2, 11x14 Pre Stretched Canvas or Linen.
